

8) The arrangements for consulting young people with special educational needs about, and involving them in, their education.

When appropriate, if parents and children are happy to, we would involve a child in all or part of the discussions around their progress and support, so that they can play an active part in their own success. We feel that this can be helpful, especially for older children, as long as they feel comfortable with this.